BILLS, SELECT COMMITTEE REPORTS, IF ANY, THEREON AND ACTS AND ORDINANCES OF MYSORE.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2057—L.A., dated Bangalore, 31st August 1950.

Under Standing Order 36 of the Legislative Assembly Standing Orders, the following report of the Select Committee on the Bangalore Survey Bill is published for general information.

G. S. VENKATARAMANA IYER,
Secretary,
Mysore Legislature.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BANGALORE SURVEY BILL.

We the Members of the Select Committee to which the Bangalore Survey Bill has been referred have considered the several clauses of the Bill and have the honour to submit this our report.

1. This Bill is intended to introduce survey in the City of Bangalore. The Superintendent of Survey has to prepare a map and a register of all lands which have been surveyed under this Bill. To every piece of land separately shown on the map and entered on the register, an indicative number has to be assigned and the name of the person appearing to be the holder thereof at the time of the survey is required to be entered in the register. Nothing contained in the map or register is to affect the rights of any person. The holder of any land surveyed under this measure has to pay one half of the survey fee. The map and the register may be revised from time to time without prejudice to rights of persons, but no person shall be required to give notice of the acquisition of any interest in land. No person shall for the purposes of this measure be compelled to produce his title deeds to any land or to disclose their contents.

2. This Bill is modelled on the lines of the Bombay City Survey Act, 1915, but whereas the survey under the Bombay Act is taken into account in the levy of land revenue under the Bombay City Land Revenue Act, 1876, there is no similar provision in the Bill. Secondly it is understood that though the property register maintained in Bombay is not a register of titles, considerable value is attached to the entries in the register.

3. We feel that for the survey to be useful, it is inevitable that titles should be looked into. Considerable mischief is likely to result from a survey which recognises and registers present holders without reference to their titles. In Madras titles are examined, disputes are settled with the usual rights of appeal and the record of survey subject to modification by decrees of court, is conclusive proof that the boundaries determined and recorded therein have been correctly determined and recorded.

4. If the holder of a land should be made to pay for the cost of survey, he should derive some benefit from it and unless the register will be at least prima facie if not conclusive evidence of his title, the survey would be of little benefit.

5. We therefore think that the purposes underlying the Bill would be better served if this is not proceeded with further, but Government permitted to bring in another measure.

6. We therefore report the Bill back to the House without any amendments and recommend that the House may permit the Government to withdraw the Bill to enable them to bring forward a more comprehensive measure.
